Banner Thinks There Is No Such Thing As Painted Prowler

(Associated Press)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 11.—The Nashville Banner announced today in bold type that it "does not believe there is a painted prowler" nor "a midnight marauder," nor an "armored arch fiend" operating in Nashville.

They base this conclusion upon police reports and investigations by the paper. Police headquarters today had no report of alleged maneuvers by the prowler last night on Delta avenue where, for several blocks, the residents have been keeping nightly vigil with shotguns ready to fire at the slightest alarm.

The Banner says that Mayor Howse has issued instructions to police who have been guarding the terrorized section to "arrest persons who shoot at ghosts and scare their neighbors." The Banner expressed belief that the "whole affair is an overdrawn hoax and product of hysteria."

Officers have been cautioned by headquarters of the police to keep a close watch for housebreakers or other criminals. No clue yet has been developed that will give tangible evidence to fasten alleged night marauding on any one person, officers say. Some think that the criminally inclined may be taking advantage of the marauder publicity.

Intent To Murder

Earnst Miller has entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder, in connection with the shooting here sometime ago of Lee Worley at that time an employee of the Alabama Power company, and given a sentence of five years and one day it was stated today by court officials. Officials also announced that George Dixon had pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and had been given a sentence of two years and one day.

Frame Dwelling Is A Total Fire Loss

The two story frame dwelling at 1318 3rd avenue south, owned by W. C. Stubbs was a total fire loss as the result of a blaze at 2:45 this morning. The Albany and Louisville departments were called out in an effort to save the building. The house was occupied at the time of the fire.

The W. B. Die residence located at 1314 3rd avenue south was slightly damaged by fire but efficient work on the part of both departments prevented any serious damage from the spreading fire.

Liberty of An Alabama
Convict Seems To Be Short Lived

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 11.—Eugene Reynolds, life term convict, is back in Speigner prison today, following a successful bid for liberty some time yesterday and his subsequent capture early this morning.

Reynolds was captured early this morning about 1:30 o'clock nearly three miles from the prison. He was found in a tree by bloodhounds. He is serving a sentence for murder in Jefferson county.

Reynolds made his escape, it is reported, by digging under the prison stockade. Jesse Black, negro, who, with two other negro convicts, made his escape from prison camp number four yesterday, was reported still at liberty this morning, although Mose McCoy and Turner Brewer, the other escapes, have been captured.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 11. What is thought to be the first marriage uniting a man and woman member of the state bar, took place here yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Edwina Faulkner, recording secretary to Governor W. W. Brandon, was married to W. H. Mitchell, Florence lawyer.

The ceremony was performed in St. John's Episcopal church here by the Rev. Richard Wilkinson.

Mrs. Faulkner formerly was an assistant attorney general and chairwoman of the state pardons board. Mrs. Faulkner has resigned her position and it is understood

SEVERAL THEORIES IN MURDER CASE

Arrest Is Expected By End Of Week In Coleman Death

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 11.—The murder of Policeman W. H. Coleman, who was found shot to death on the stairs leading to his rooming house on Wednesday morning, has been narrowed down to one of three motives, according to Police Chief Y. L. Anthony, who said today that investigators now are probing each of these motives and that one of them might lead to possible arrest before the week is passed.

Officers have been at a loss to learn why this officer, who was serving his second day on the force, should be murdered unless he was shot in line of duty. One theory has it Coleman saw robbers on the roof of a one-story building next to his boarding house and went up to the stairs to investigate. Another was that Coleman was coming for Policeman Clements, a fellow-officer who roomed with him, in order to round up possible marauders who he had run down on his round and that they followed him.

A theory that Coleman committed suicide has never been considered and unless one of the new theories, now under investigation by the officers, yields something, the police will be no farther in their investigation than they were the first morning the dead man was found.

A deep mystery surrounds the case and the county, as well as city police forces, have been turned loose on the affair. It was suggested in some

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Commander John Rogers, rescued after nine days afloat in the mid-Pacific in his plane the PN-9 number one, today was appointed assistant chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics.

He will report to Washington as soon as possible to assume his new post. Secretary Wilbur decided on the appointment late last night when he learned of the rescue of the plane and its crew.

SURVIVORS SLEEP

LIHUE, Island of Kauai, Sept. 11.—In a darkened suite of rooms in an old fashioned hotel here five men lay unconscious in sleep today. It was sleep of a kind that had been denied them for nine days and nights, while faced by threatening death, they tossed on the broad Pacific in the wrecked navy seaplane PN-9 number one. The five men were Commander John Rogers, head of the attempted San Francisco-Honolulu non-stop flight, and his four associates rescued yesterday by the submarine RH-4, after practically all hope had been given up by their brother officers of seeing them again.

Their sleep was guarded carefully. Exhausted but too excited for slumber, they were ordered to bed early this morning by navy doctors.

Outside the hotel the scene was different. Visitors and navy men stood about, discussing the ending of the flight and allowing their imaginations to be captured by the drama.

PREPARE for first class shuddering in Washington.

The Communist member of Parliament, Saklatvala, is one of the British delegation to the parliamentary conference at Washington. Saklatvala in a public speech said among other things, this of the British flag:

"The Union Jack is the symbol of enslaved labor all over the world. It is the weapon with which the worker is downtrodden. In the name of the British worker I demand that the Union Jack shall cease to function. I say, let us abolish the Union Jack."

Suppose a Communist or Socialist member of our Congress said that about the Stars and Stripes. What would happen to him? Would he be sent as a member of a congressional delegation to London, or would he be sent to the morgue?

IF SAKLATVALA tried to PULL DOWN the Union Jack, they would have put him in jail quickly enough. The queer British, although they haven't any constitution with free speech in it, seem to take free speech seriously. We, presumably more enlightened, have free speech in our constitution, but forbid it in practice.

Lack Of Water To Permit Operation Of Turbines At Only Part Of Their Full Capacity, Engineers Say

(Associated Press)

FLORENCE, Ala., Sept. 11.—Within the next 48 hours, probably within the next 24 hours, the first power developed at the Wilson Dam hydro-electric plant will be sent out from Muscle Shoals.

Government officials at the dam were busy this morning trying to complete all work necessary for connecting up the giant turbine with the transmission line. Up to the present time no power developed at the Muscle Shoals hydro-electric station has been sent out, but there has been a large supply made available from the steam generating plant, which is being operated by the Alabama Power company.

The first turbines started turning about a week ago at the dam and it was announced then that some days would be necessary to test out the turbine and to dry out the coil. The capacity of this turbine is 30,000 horse power, but the present head of water will not permit the full operation.

Three other turbines of like capacity are completed and ready to be placed in operation.

Engineers at the dam state that the head of water will not permit the operation of all four, but two, or possibly three, can be operated at part capacity, with no definite estimate as to the total horsepower possible.

Only a small flow of water has been permitted through the sluice gates and this flow will be turned through the turbine.

This flow has been necessary to provide water in the river at points further down stream.

The Sheffield steam plant is being operated at near capacity. This plant has an estimated capacity production of 65,000 horsepower.

EXPLANATION MADE BY JUDGE O. KYLE

Thirty-Two Cases Been Disposed Of Through Thursday Aft.

Judge O. Kyle, presiding in circuit court here, today issued the following statement:

"Editor Albany-Decatur Daily: 'In your article about the circuit court appearing in yesterday's paper, you made the statement that although the court was convened last Monday morning that up to noon on Thursday 'that not a single case had been finally disposed of.' This statement is not correct.

"The fact is, that at adjournment of the court on Thursday afternoon that 32 cases had been 'finally' disposed of.

"Hereafter, you should require your informant to ascertain the facts before reporting them, and in reporting them, you should require him to tell the whole truth.

O. KYLE."
(Editor's Note:—The story referred to by Judge Kyle was one published Wednesday reciting a series of incidents which had occurred during this term of court, all of them causing delay in pending trials. All of the incidents were acts of providence and no intention to reflect on the court was intended. As a matter of fact, it was stated that the delays were through no fault whatever of the court. The cases Judge Kyle refers to as having been "finally disposed of" evidently had to do with litigation ended by defaults, agreed verdicts or other processes not requiring jury reports. The statement regarding the inability of the court to dispose of a single case referred only to the jury proceedings and The Daily regrets that its intended impression was interpreted otherwise.)

KIDDIES GLEEFUL AS CIRCUS ARRIVES

Youngsters Up Early
To Greet Trains
At Dawn

John Robinson Circus arrived in the city today from Nashville, where the big show appeared yesterday to overflowing crowds. A great number of youngsters, grown ups also, were on hand at the railroad yards this morning when the big circus rolled into town. The elephants, camels and all the rest of the animal tribes stepped from their side door pullmans with a majestic tread and wended their way to the show grounds, a short distance off.

The performance this evening will take place at 8 p.m. For the convenience of those who wish to purchase their seats before going to the circus a seat sale is established at the Alabama Drug store. Tickets may be had there at exactly the same price as on the show grounds.

The program opens with the spectacular extravaganza "Peter Pan in Animal Land." Miss Adeline Weaver, who appeared with the Chicago Opera company will have the leading singing role. And E. V. Dixon, an actor and singer of note, will have the leading male role of the spectacle, 500 people animals and horses take part in this gigantic pageant.

All folks that are circus lovers have in store for them a rare treat in the appearance of Capt. Ricardo and his trained Nubian lions. The Captain, by the way is the hero of Courtney Riley Cooper's famous circus story "Under the White Tops." other noted wild animal teachers that appear in this arena are: Miss Nellie Roth, offering a group of performers; Indian Tigers, Theo. Schroeder, master handler of polar bears, and Miss Lorraine Wallace, the only woman in the world that wrestles a real Bengal tiger.

John Robinson's Circus, the most complete and unique tented exhibition on the road today has many startling innovations on their program this season. Their blue ribbon winning equines with their fair lady riders going through the most intricate paces ever conceived by a circus ring master are receiving the highest praise everywhere.

Elephant actors, acrobats, aerial lists, wire artists and what not, together with an army of clowns on the tracks at all times, complete the program guaranteed to please old and young alike.

New Equipment Is Added To Howard

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 11—With the recent addition of modern equipment to the department of chemical engineering of Howard college, local institution, officials of the school say that Howard now ranks second to none in the south in the teaching of this course. The new equipment as announced by Dr. John C. Dawson president of the college, consists of instruments to be used chiefly in the advanced courses in gas and fuel analysis. The equipment was purchased by Prof. R. W. Allen, head of the department on a recent buying trip to New York.

Prof. Franklin P. Lasseter, Ohio State University, will handle the advanced classes in metallurgy of and steel and in the chemical and engineering materials.

The department of chemical engineering, which offers 15 distinctive courses has attracted much attention throughout the South, school officials say, and with the addition of new facilities is expected to advance in popularity. Howard's location in the center of the iron and steel industry in Alabama is expected to further interest in the course.

Dr. Dawson, in reviewing the history of the department, said that from a small beginning of three courses and one instructor, the department has expanded until it now offers 15 courses that are handled by four instructors. The present fall term marks the fourth year of the four-course in this branch of science.

The enrollment of the department last year reached 40 students, it is reported with about 50 students taking four year chemistry in preparation for medical work.

Tennessee Facing Difficult Schedule

(Associated Press)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. Sept. 11—University of Tennessee has one of the hardest football schedules in her history for this fall. The season starts off on October 3, with an engagement on Hardee field with Emory and Henry followed on the 10th with Maryville here and then the team plunges into six major games beginning with Vanderbilt at Nashville on October 17 then L. S. U. at Knoxville on October 24; Georgia at Knoxville, October 31; Center at Danville November 7; Mississippi A. & M. at Knoxville, November 14th and ending the season with Kentucky at Lexington on Thanksgiving day.

First practice work began on September 7th and the field is equipped with flood lights and re-sodded to give opportunity for late practice in order to cope with the difficult schedule.

Coch Banks is using all efforts to build up a successful team that can carry Tennessee through a good season in spite of last year's reverses. He is assisted in tutoring by B. F. Oakes, who will coach the line, and Prof. R. W. Holt, who is acting as freshman coach.

CHEMICAL ACTION ON BLOOD BY RAYS

There Is Nothing Like Pure Air, Sunlight and Exercise to Promote Health and Add to Your Days.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,

United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

NOT so long ago a very long time friend of mine drove me out to show what he is doing with a real estate development. He is building dams, making two lakes and a series of pools. A golf course and tennis courts are under construction. Drainage, sewage, water supply, good streets and all the makings of an attractive rural community are in process of completion.

It pleases one to think city people are thinking of the open spaces. It is good to know, too, that city dwellings are constructed now with light and ventilation as the objective.

The out-of-door life is essential to everybody. When it comes to food, we find that most of us make some aversion. At least some foods have an aversion to us. But fresh air and sunlight are good for everybody, they agree with everybody.

Not only do they agree with us, but we cannot thrive without them. I have told you before about the blind asylum built without windows, to save expense. It costs less, of course, but the inmates sickened and died. Sunlight does more than assist right. It is essential to life.

In the rays from the sun are certain ones which have a peculiar chemical effect on the blood and body tissues. Really, these rays are like tonic medicine. They build up the body and promote the health.

Glass, even the clearest, flat glass, shuts out many of these properties of light. The open-air exposure to sunlight is the way to get its full value.

It isn't possible for everybody to live in the country, of course, but no matter where you live you should strive to spend part of each sun-ray day right out in the rays of the sun. This rule of conduct will add to health and length of days.

I am sorry so many persons are slow to use the sunlight. In summer they dodge it because of the heat, but it is too valuable as a means of promoting health to do this. It will pay you good interest by the saving of doctor's bills.

There is enough of the mild weather left us still to get lots of good from it. I can think of no better way to build up a reserve for the winter than by spending every possible hour in the open air.

At the same time we are storing up health, we can be studying the leaves and trees and plants. We can observe and marvel at the beauties of Nature. I beg of you, for the sake of your hungry body, to fill your lungs every day with quantities of pure air. Make your red blood cells laugh with joy over the exercise and sunlight you give them.

Answers to Health Queries

E. S. L. Q.—My back aches terribly and I feel all the time as if I am going to faint. What causes this?

2.—What causes my pulse and heart to beat very rapidly at times?

A.—This is probably due to lumbar. Application of heat and massage should be helpful. However, if this does not give relief try strapping the back.

2.—This may be due to nervousness. However, it would be well to have your heart examined to make sure of the trouble.

RHEUMATISM. Q.—I am troubled with rheumatism in my knees and shoulders. What would you advise?

A.—First of all try to get at the source of the trouble which is usually due to some infection. The treatment depends to a great extent upon the cause. Application of heat and massage should give temporary relief. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

MRS. M. H. Q.—I am suffering from arthritis. What can I do to help cure this trouble?

A.—Arthritis is a very stubborn disease to treat. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The marauder operating in Nashville and Birmingham has caused considerable stir among the citizens of those cities and the people of other towns and cities nearby. It is too bad that the marauder has not been shot before this time, he may enter a plea of insanity when the law finally does effect a capture; that will mean that he is a free citizen so far as the hanging laws are concerned.

The Alabama Power company is not planning to employ any more men when the building of the new substation on Second Avenue is completed, but the building is a distinctly progressive move on the part of outside capital. We like to see this spirit from the outside, it shows the faith that others have in this location and the future growth of this immediate territory. The Power company has authorized the expenditure of nearly $50,000 here in the past three or four weeks, preparing for the progressive moves that will loom in the future months.

President Coolidge doubtless will enter into the probe of recent air disasters and finally wind up with non to be blamed, whether the guilt can be placed or whether the air study is still in infancy and naturally due for a few setbacks, before any real progress can be seen. Colonel Mitchell means right in his attack of the air officials, he believes he has reached the seat of the trouble, but, Colonel Mitchell can never explain why the Shenandoah hit a line squall, he surely can't lay that on swivel chair officials in the city of Washington. The Shenandoah accident resulted from a battle with the elements, why then should any man be in position to question? What will be the final conclusion when the probing is brought to an end? They can accomplish nothing but an increased expense for the taxpayers who must foot the price of expenses for the probes.

Headlines tell the story of falling mercury over the Southland. The mercury can continue to fall some twenty degrees before the drop will be noticeable. The present summer is undoubtedly the hottest warm season the South has known for many, many years. Any effort made to get away from the intense heat has caused only an increase in the flow of blood in the body and consequently a temperature higher than when first started. The great advantage of the smaller city over the great population centers is readily seen in that but a single fatality has been recorded from the great heat wave throughout the summer. In the Eastern cities an increase in temperature is noted by scores falling from heat prostrations. Even with the weather at 104 local people did not complain loudly, possible they had become accustomed to the prevailing atmospheric conditions through practice.

KELLER MEMORIAL SUGGESTION A TRIBUTE TO A FAILEN COMRADE

The suggestion that the bridge, that will some day stand as a gateway between the states of Alabama and Tennessee, be named the Keller Memorial Bridge, is a sound suggestion, one worthy of commendation and deep consideration.

W. S. Keller, the only state highway engineer the state has ever had, fell in the ranks, fighting to the last for his state and the glorification of what he believed to be the best section of a glorious nation. Mr. Keller accomplished much while he was in his position of responsibility, he did a great deal to remove Alabama from the shackles of mud roads, barring the state from progress and indirectly causing a great deal of ignorance, advertisement of which has never done Alabama any good when listed with other states.

Mr. Keller richly deserves the honor which has been suggested; we believe he was worthy and that his work

LIMESTONE PAPER PREPARES TO BATTLE $75,000,000 ROAD ISSUE

The Athens Courier, ably edited by R. M. Rawls and published in our neighborly and friendly town of Athens, is preparing a campaign to be launched against the $75,000,000 bond issue. The editor does not approve of the method in which the money is to be paid out; he objects to the expenditure of $37,500,000 at the discretion of the highway department. The rest doesn't seem to bother a great deal, but that provision seems to bother.

It is only right that the newspapers of the state go into detail on the matter of the proposed bond issue. Assuming an issue of such magnitude is something for the newspapers and the people of Alabama to think over carefully before voting an issue of such tremendous proportion.

The Daily is going to support the bond issue. The Daily believes in the present highway commission and the commissions that may follow. The men who occupy such high positions of authority in the state must be men of honor and integrity, else they would not be placed there. The Daily believes that the men who will be in charge of the expenditures will place money to the best advantage for the state and by degrees deliver Alabama from the scourge of bad roads. That is what the word "discretion," in the bond issue proposal means to The Daily.

We have certainly been backed against the wall time and again simply for the lack of good roads in this state. If a bond issue will raise Alabama from the mud, then let's vote it. The present commission has made some long strides on the route—Alabama is in by far a better road condition than she was five years ago. Alabama needs the roads—a citizen of this state journeying to other states cannot but justly hang his head in shame when the mention of roads is made. He knows the disadvantage of a poor road system. We need the roads; an issue will do the work; we can see no reason for standing back on technicalities and shouting to the people to use "discretion."

CITIES FUTURE OPPORTUNITIES SHOULD BE A WHIP TO CITIZENS

When we stop to consider what these cities have in opportunities, we wonder why there is even a temporary halt in the march to the "place in the sun," the throne of industrial and agricultural activity. Why is there any question as to the advisability of progression at this time, why is there any need for asking questions of others about the thought of the future and the development of these cities which will one day envelop the Valley.

Outsiders are quick to see the advantages which we have here; we should be all the more alert and see them first. As far back as history is written on this section and this immediate locality a great man is quoted as saying, "This site will some day be the location of a great city; this location offers every advantage needed for the building of an industrial metropolis." Taking a more modern view of the present situation we quote again the prediction of a Louisville & Nashville official who upon looking at the factory sites available, asked, "What is the reason factories are not here with so splendid a location offered?"

What is the answer, no one knows. We are just waiting until prosperity comes rather than getting up to raise the latch string at the knock from the outside.

We have the opportunities here, but we make very little effort at getting others' interest. We feel like so long as we see it, the outsider should also see it and that there is no use of going to him with it. Many times great industries have gone to another section of the state because of a lack of interest shown by the citizens themselves; we are not sorry that other cities in the state landed the industry, but we are sorry that we didn't get it. We might have had it had we really expended effort, money and time to get it, like the other cities have. We have the opportunities, but outsiders are not going to discover us unless we discover them first and show them the advantages in cold business figures.

MAY THE CELEBRATION SHOW THE TRUE SPIRIT OF HOSPITALITY

Just a few days off the celebration date looms as the greatest day of the year for Albany-Decatur, unless it is to be regarded that the date the bond issues were voted almost unanimously is greater, the day when the notables of two states are to gather here and give to the people a part of the full meaning of the building of the bridge.

This celebration was promised at the conclusion of vote counting on the recent bond issues and the people who are coming here are expecting something really worth while from these cities on that date, next Thursday.

There is no cause to fear that the cities will not extend the hospitality of which they are capable, the old Southern type of hospitality that is mentioned all over the nation and looked upon as an almost sacred rite of the Southland.

Papers of at least two states have been talking to the people of Albany-Decatur's plans for this celebration and the people expect it to be a real celebration in every sense of the word. Albany-Decatur can best show its hospitality by getting out on the streets and aiding strangers who will be in the cities on that date. Show them the points of interest—take them for a ride about the city, show them that Albany-Decatur has something to offer when a celebration is planned.

The Limestone Democrat gives the following view on the celebration event:

"Albany-Decatur is making big preparations for the big Tennessee river bridge celebration, which will be held in those towns on Sept. 17th. Govs. Brandon of Alabama and Peay of Tennessee and President John A. Rogers of the state highway commission will be the principal speakers of the day, while Gen. William L. Sibert of the state docks commission will deliver the principal address at the banquet to be given at five o'clock in the afternoon. The construction of a bridge across the river at Albany-Decatur marks the culmination of the dream of years of the people of those two towns and is but another indication of the awakening the South is experiencing at this time. The Twin Cities are preparing to put on a big celebration on the 17th instant and they certainly have just cause for it."

We are glad that the people of Limestone county realize the importance of the building of a bridge—they showed that when they helped us to build it. Those people expect Albany-Decatur to put on a celebration that is worthy of the greatness of the project.

In the celebration these cities have a wonderful opportunity for advertising the communities to the outside. Many people will be here on that date who have never before paid us a visit. We are going to have a chance to mingle with the most prominent people in two states and those people are going back home and talk of what sort of folks they found in Northern Alabama. Let's insure ourselves now, let's prepare now for one of the really enjoyable events of the entire year—let the celebration be an attribute, an asset, not giving cause for other than pleasant reflection after our neighbors have returned to their homes. We can do it—we have in the past; we are entirely capable; let nothing stand in the way at ing very far under the skin. It is easier to change a man's nominal religion than to change his character or thought.

History teaches that Asia does not take to Christianity or its teachings. Christianity originated in Asia, but Paul had to take it to Europe to establish it as the dominating religion. It has never taken hold in any part of Asia, where it was born.

HENRY E. HUNTINGTON, of California, pays more than a million dollars for four paintings by Gainsborough, Reynolds, Romney and Constable. You are glad that Huntington will have these pictures to look at the rest of his life and glad that he has the money to buy them. These portraits, with all his other magnificent paintings, his magnificent library, and the house in which he lives, have already been given away and are now the property of the people of California. When a man gives what he has to the people, the more he has the better.

CHIEF POLICE SURGEON OWEN brings from Europe to Philadelphia this statement: "When I asked them in London and Paris about drunken policemen, firemen and taxi drivers they laughed at me. There simply aren't any. The solution over there is, give the police and firemen their light wine and beer. It's a cure for drunkenness. There is no prohibition to interfere with their imbibing of wine and beer. It's a cure for drunkenness."

That statement shocking to good prohibitionists confirms what Thomas Jefferson said more than a hundred years ago. He urged Congress to encourage light wine and beer in order to get rid of whiskey which, said he, kills half of our men and ruins their families. Prohibition has succeeded in getting rid of light wine and beer, but not of whiskey. But, it has been in trial a short time only.

FALL CLUB PROGRAMS TO BEGIN IN EARNEST

The rustling corn and falling leaves are a reminder that Autumn is nearly here and summer vacation days are over. Delightful vacation weeks spent visiting and at resorts are now memories and as the kiddies are either in school or ready to begin next week, the Church and club activities will begin in earnest after lagging considerably during the hot months, and they have been scorched.

The Missionary Societies and Woman's Auxiliaries of churches of the Twin Cities, almost without exception, will have open meetings on the first Monday in October, many planning them with a social feature added.

The Literary and Bible Study clubs will not meet for several weeks but the year books for 1925-26 have been distributed and each and every member is collecting data for the papers and is also anticipating much pleasure from the social side.

However two of the youngest organizations in the Twin Cities are the Eastside Community Center and the Market Street Community House, both of which have been doing a remarkable work under the supervision of the Social Service Board of the Federated Missionary Societies of Albany and Decatur. The latter board is composed of Mrs. D. D. McGehee, chairman and one member of each denomination as follows: Mrs. J. T. Jones, Methodist; Mrs. W. H. Simpson, Baptist; and Mrs. Gray, Christian. Mrs. J. D. Jervis, Presbyterian; Mrs. Thomas Hodson, Episcopalian. Sewing classes are being conducted on Tuesday and Friday of each week by members of the Missionary Societies at the Market Street House with Mrs. J. H. Mayes, chairman and Mesdames S. D. Johnson and J. N. Gibson in charge, and much benefit is being derived by the children attending.

Sunday school is conducted regularly each Sunday afternoon. Miss Rothfus is superintendent. Upon request from some of the older residents of the community house neighborhood, prayer meetings are to be held each Friday evening, with one of the pastors of the cities leading.

Under the able direction of Miss Groenendyke the work in the East Side Community Center has progressed rapidly and much has been accomplished, both in the sewing department and other training classes.

The co-operation between the women of the different churches has been splendid throughout and workers of the societies have been generous with their time, but the work has grown to such an extent that it is almost compulsory, and it is very necessary that a trained worker be employed to spend a part of her time at each place. This worker will not take the place of voluntary workers and these will continue in their services.

At present no funds are available for this purpose, but plans are on foot to raise a monthly allowance, even if it must be done by popular subscription. If such a course is pursued, those interested are confident that the people of the Twin Cities, as they have done in the past will give generously to this most worthy fund.

PARTY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Misses Maxey Speake and Louise Almon shared honors at a bridge party given on Thursday at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Peggy Davis invited the following of their friends to join them at bridge games: Misses Dolores Hardage, Mary Wallace Smiley, Thelma Hatfield, Thelma Wilder, Margaret Harrison, Louise Anderson, Clara Berry Hunt, Mary Bronough, Sarah Blackwell, Mary Frances Damascus, of Huntsville, Mildred Cotton, of Huntsville, Louise Hodges and Virginia Humphrey.

Garden flowers lent their bright hues to the rooms of the Valley Country club the scene of the party and they made an attractive setting for the bridge tables surrounded by these lovely young girls.

Miss Thelma Hatfield cut low for the bridge prize and Miss Louise Anderson received the booby trophy. Both of the honorees were presented dainty souvenirs. Late in the afternoon a salad course was enjoyed.

Miss Mildred Cotton, of Huntsville is the house guest of Miss Sarah Blackwell.

Mrs. Lelia Grubbs Hall is expected home on Friday from Nashville, Tenn. where she has been on an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. J. A. Cullom.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hodson have returned from a visit to Birmingham.

Mrs. W. W. McBride has returned from a several days visit to friends in Halesville.

Mrs. Knox has returned from a visit

PARTY ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Mattie Thrasher entertained a number of her friends at her home on Wednesday night. Music and games featured the entire evening at the conclusion of which delicious refreshments were served.

Those invited to participate in this hospitality were Misses Edna Johnson, Lillian Bradford, Monie Hill, Josie Trotman, Pauline Phillips and Messrs. Ed Brown, Buster McMillan, Herschel Griffin, Arthur Thrasher, Albert Huit, Paul Johnson and Charlie Mendle.

BEAUTIFUL NEW COUNTRY CLUB OPENED IN HUNTSVILLE

With hundreds of members and friends in attendance, the beautiful new Huntsville Golf and Country Club was formally opened last night, with a reception from nine until ten o'clock and a dance from ten until three o'clock. In addition to the large number of Huntsville residents present, scores of guests gathered from the Tri-Cities, the Twin Cities and other communities to rejoice with Huntsville in the opening of one of the finest country clubs in the South, a club which is a distinct asset to the entire Huntsville district and a club which the city may well be proud of.

The movement, which culminated last night in the opening of the club, had its inception several months ago, since which time large crews have been engaged in the task of remodeling the old country estate of Major Milton Moss. All modern conveniences have been placed in the club house and about the grounds, but at the same time no effort has been spared to preserve the original beauty of the handsome residence and its grounds.

Nine holes of the 18-hole golf course already have been finished and the remaining nine will be ready for use by November 1. A space has been enclosed with netting and made ready to accommodate four tennis courts. Near the clubhouse, in a splendid natural setting, excavation has started for a concrete and the tile swimming pool.

About the grounds large frosted electric bulbs provide ample lighting arrangements, proving quite convenient also for automobile drivers.

The clubhouse, itself, erected on a tract of land which sweeps upward from the Pulaski pike, is one of the most pretentious edifices of its kind in the south. From the clubhouse, visitors can look into Huntsville, the taller buildings of the city being plainly visible from the club's sun-porch.

On the lower floor there are large living and music rooms, a private dining room, complete kitchenette, office space and on the sun porch accommodations are available for sixty diners.

The upper floors have dressing rooms, locker rooms and quarters for the caretakers.

The club's opening Thursday evening was one of the brilliant events of the season and the club committees which handled the arrangements for the event may well be pleased with the success which crowned their efforts.

Music for the dancers was furnished by Shan Austin's Floridians. During the most enjoyable evening favors were distributed to the dancers and the fancy caps, bedecked walking sticks, whistles, imitation snow balls and paper streamers added gaiety to the evening and color to the already colorful ballroom scene.

The officers of the club are: T. W. Pratt, president; Dr. G. C. Dillard, first vice president; S. S. Fletcher, second vice president; George M. Mahoney, secretary and treasurer.

The directors are: T. W. Pratt, Dr. C. G. Dillard, S. S. Fletcher, Geo. M. Mahoney, W. P. Dilworth, A. W. White, F. H. Ford, W. C. Hutchins, L. B. Goldsmith, R. C. Chase, Herbert Johnson, R. C. Allen, W. D. Hall and J. F. Chambers who also composed the receiving line last night.

Mrs. W. G. Roberts had as her guests for a few days this week, Mrs. Roberts and children of Huntsville.

Miss Frances Ullerston of Huntsville has returned to her home after a short visit here.

Mrs. Howard Lively and two children spent the last weekend with relatives in points in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and family will soon occupy their home at 615 East Vine street which they recently bought.

Miss Jones of Mobile spent several days with Miss Zedie Pullen en route to visit friends in Akron, Ohio.

Mrs. C. M. Riggsbee who spent several days last week with her son Raymond Martin, and Mrs. Martin in Birmingham has been ill since her return

They were chaperoned by Mrs. Trotman, Mrs. Robert Bradford and Mrs. Ollie Carden.

After a number of interesting games a delectable dinner was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stutz are now making their home in Miami, Fla., where Mr. Stutz is engaged in business.

Miss Lucy Haywood Binford, of Athens, Ala., is visiting several girl friends in the Twin Cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pullen had as their guests on Tuesday and Wednesday Joe Pullen and M. Richardson of Akron, Ohio, en route home from a motor trip to Mobile.

Mrs. F. O. Dimsby of Birmingham has returned to her home after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Chappell.

Mrs. William Watson, of Eutaw, Ala., is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. B. Crawford.

Does your boy feel like this?

Does he feel like a wild bucking bronco—or a clean limbed thorough-bred on a fast track on a crisp September morning? Does he start off to school like a Baldwin locomotive racing a string of box cars up hill? Is he all sparkle and muscle and steel? Do his shoes wear out like paper—his stockings yawn—his knickerbockers rip?

We hope that's a picture of your boy—a real boy. He consumes more units of energy for his size than any steam engine that ever turned a wheel. His appetite is more voracious than that of the hottest furnace. He's never so full that he chokes—though he eats so fast that he threatens to choke with each mouthful.

You wouldn't discourage that appetite if you could. But you can control and direct it. Give him biscuits made with Valier's Dainty Flour. Reward his virtuous moments with a piece of Dainty Baked Cake. Whatever you give him that's made with Dainty is rich and pure. For Dainty is milled from just the rich, creamy centers of the choicest soft wheat grown. No phosphate or other adulterants ever mar its purity or impair its flavor. Dainty is always worth the little difference between its cost and that of ordinary flour. It's the finest flour we can mill. It's milled for the mothers of men.

THEATRES

"The Re-Creation of Brian Kent", one of Harold B. Wright's most popular books, has just been translated to the screen by Principal Pictures Corporation. It is estimated by Mr. Wright's publishers that of the 50,000,000 people who have read his books over 2,500,000 of that number are screen translation was greatly aided since it was personally supervised by the author, himself, and bears his stamp of approval as truthfully carrying to the cinema the message conveyed by this wonderful story.

Because of public demand to see this story laid in the Ozark mountains and featuring a thrilling and inspiring reformation of a bank clerk by means of great love and self-sacrifice, Sol Lesser, president of Principal Pictures Corporation decided that "The Re-Creation of Brian Kent" should be the third of the nine screen translations to be made by that producing company of Wright's novels.

The truly all-star cast includes: Kenneth Harlan, Helene Chadwick, Mary Carr, ZaSu Pitts, Russell Simpson, Rosemary Theby, Roy Barnes and Ralph Lewis.

"The Re-Creation of Brian Kent" from the story by Harold Bell Wright will be presented by Sol Lesser as a Principal Pictures Master Attraction at the Princess theater tomorrow.

Husband Grilled In Wife's Slaying

Sheriff Whitfield said that Cook had not given a satisfactory explanation as to where he was the night of the shooting.

Catarrah Shatters Dream of Happiness For Many Brides

Well-Known Authority Predicts That Within a Few Years After Universal Use of St. Joseph's G. F. P. Women Will No Longer Have to Go as If Under a Cloud.

Every woman looks forward to the time when she shall become a happy bride—the greatest ambition of her life. And when her wedding day comes, she is radiant with life and love, glowing with energy and health, and filled with rosy dreams of the future.

But what a difference a few years make. Dreadful changes take place; gone are the dreams of yesterday; tired lines are etched in her face; perhaps her health is impaired. Cares and responsibilities have weighed too heavily on her frail shoulders. So-called female troubles have made her weak, irritable or nervous.

This state of affairs can be traced to a condition in the system of women which has proven to be catarrah of the generative organs, and this malady never corrects itself. Unless stamped out, it spreads to other parts of the body through the inflammation of the mucous membrane, causing that awful whimsical and morbid feeling of depression which makes its victims feel like life is hardly worth living or them.

The success of St. Joseph's G. F. P. is established beyond question the correctness of the theory that catarrah of the generative organs is the cause of nine out of ten cases of so-called female disorders.

"At the present amazing rate, women are using St. Joseph's G. F. P., I know I am safe in predicting that within a few years suffering and sickness from so-called disorders of women will be comparatively unknown among the women and girls of this country," says the representative of the discovery of this wonderful medicine.

Women Now Depend on St. Joseph's G. F. P. to Restore Their Vitality

Edward Pfaff At 50 Years Passes

Edward Pfaff, aged 50 years, prominent over this entire section passed away at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at his home on 3rd avenue west, after an illness of two weeks. Davidson, R. E. Chandler, Hodges Crow, and Herbert Yarbrough. Interment will be made at the city cemetery, Priest in charge.

Madison County Farmer Is Slain

(Associated Press)
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Sept. 11.—Elis Miller, a farmer, is dead, John Helton, farmer is in jail charged with murder as the outcome of a quarrel over a business deal in Deposit precinct last night.

Helton, who came to the city today and surrendered declared Miller came to his house and said he was looking for trouble. Believing him to be a dangerous man, Helton said he got his shotgun and fired. The entire load penetrated Miller's breast and caused instant death. Helton claims self defense.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever; since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Advt.

DIX W. NOEL

Dix W. Noel, wealthy father of the demented Montclair youth who killed a six-year-old girl, will spend his all to save his son from the electric chair. The authorities believe young Noel will be sent to an asylum.

MADE NEW MAN OUT OF HIM

Thought He Would Never Be Well Again Before He Used Herb Juice

"Several months ago I thought I would never be well again. Today I feel like a new man, thanks to the wonderful results I have had from Herb Juice, and I can certainly recommend this medicine to anyone," said Mr. Sam Massey of Donelson, Tenn., when he called to see the Herb Juice man a few days ago. "Before I used your medicine," continued Mr. Massey, "I was in such a rundown condition, brought on by years of suffering by stomach trouble, that I had given up all hope of ever being well again. I also suffered a great deal with my kidneys and was badly constipated all the time. My whole system seemed to be full of poison, liver was sluggish, then to make matters worse, I began to suffer with rheumatism. I tried first one medicine, then another, but it was just the same—money spent for no relief."

"Then I was fortunate enough to hear about Herb Juice, which I want to say to you, is the greatest medicine I have ever used. In all I have now taken three bottles of Herb Juice and I simply feel like a new man. My bowels act regularly, I eat all I want and never have any trouble with my stomach. My kidneys and liver are in good shape and I have gained several pounds in weight. I have been relieved of rheumatic pains. Herb Juice has certainly proved its value to me and I can recommend it to anyone."

Herb Juice, the great medicine, that is accomplishing such great results in the way of relieving sufferers is now being introduced in Albany by Caddell Drug Co.—Advt.

Keeping Pace With Alabama

THE telephone construction program now in progress in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas is the largest ever undertaken by the Southern Bell Company.

Plans which were expected to care for the telephone needs have been revised, because of the growth and progress of the South and the additions and replacements this year will cost $13,320,700.

More than $2,217,300 will be expended in Alabama this year for new telephone buildings, equipment, plant and replacements.

The large, additional investment is but a reflection of the demand for service in this and other Southern States.

The enormous sums of money required to meet this development is new capital which must be furnished by investors who have faith in the future of this State, or must be borrowed in the money markets.

While this work is in progress your service continues day and night at a higher standard of efficiency and in greater volume than ever before.

Our success depends in a large measure upon your continued co-operation, which encourages the telephone workers to strive to serve you better.

Macks Miss Chance To Go Up. Vols Near Pels As Crackers Continue Fighting Hard

Washington stood still while the Mackmen from Philadelphia engaged in a pair of tilts with the Yankees losing the first and winning the second. The Macks have cracked badly under the severe strain and it is not to be expected that they will again lead the Washingtonians during the 1925 season.

Down in the Southern league the Volunteers forged another step nearer the faltering Pels who were being battered and torn by the leading Atlanta Crackers. The Pels sent the New Orleans team hurtling into the depths in the second straight start in the championship series. The Vols won out over the Memphis Chicks and thereby gained an additional footing in the third place position with an excellent chance to move into second if the Pels do not improve within the next few days.

Pirates resumed their championship stride taking a melee from the Cardinals at St. Louis. Vic Aldridge hurled brilliantly until the ninth when Jim Bottomly hit for the circuit with the bags choked. Aldridge had allowed but one hit up until the seventh inning. He was accorded sterling support.

How the scribes figure that Jakey Atz Fort Worth Cats will be the winner of the Texas league turmoil is a bit more than the ordinary mind can figure. Atz Cats are only two games in the lead of both Dallas and Wichita Falls, why then should the Cats be heralded as the winners of the Texas League year? The teams seem to be too closely bunched at this time to predict that a two game lead has cinched the pennant. You can't count a winner until the last game is played when the teams are so close together.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: On being introduced I say, "How do you do?" Is this proper? E. K.

E. K.: Yes, this quite proper, my dear. If, however, the person to whom you are introduced is some one you have heard about before you might add a personal comment, such as "Miss Smythe has told me about your work. I think it must be fascinating."
